THE COURIER

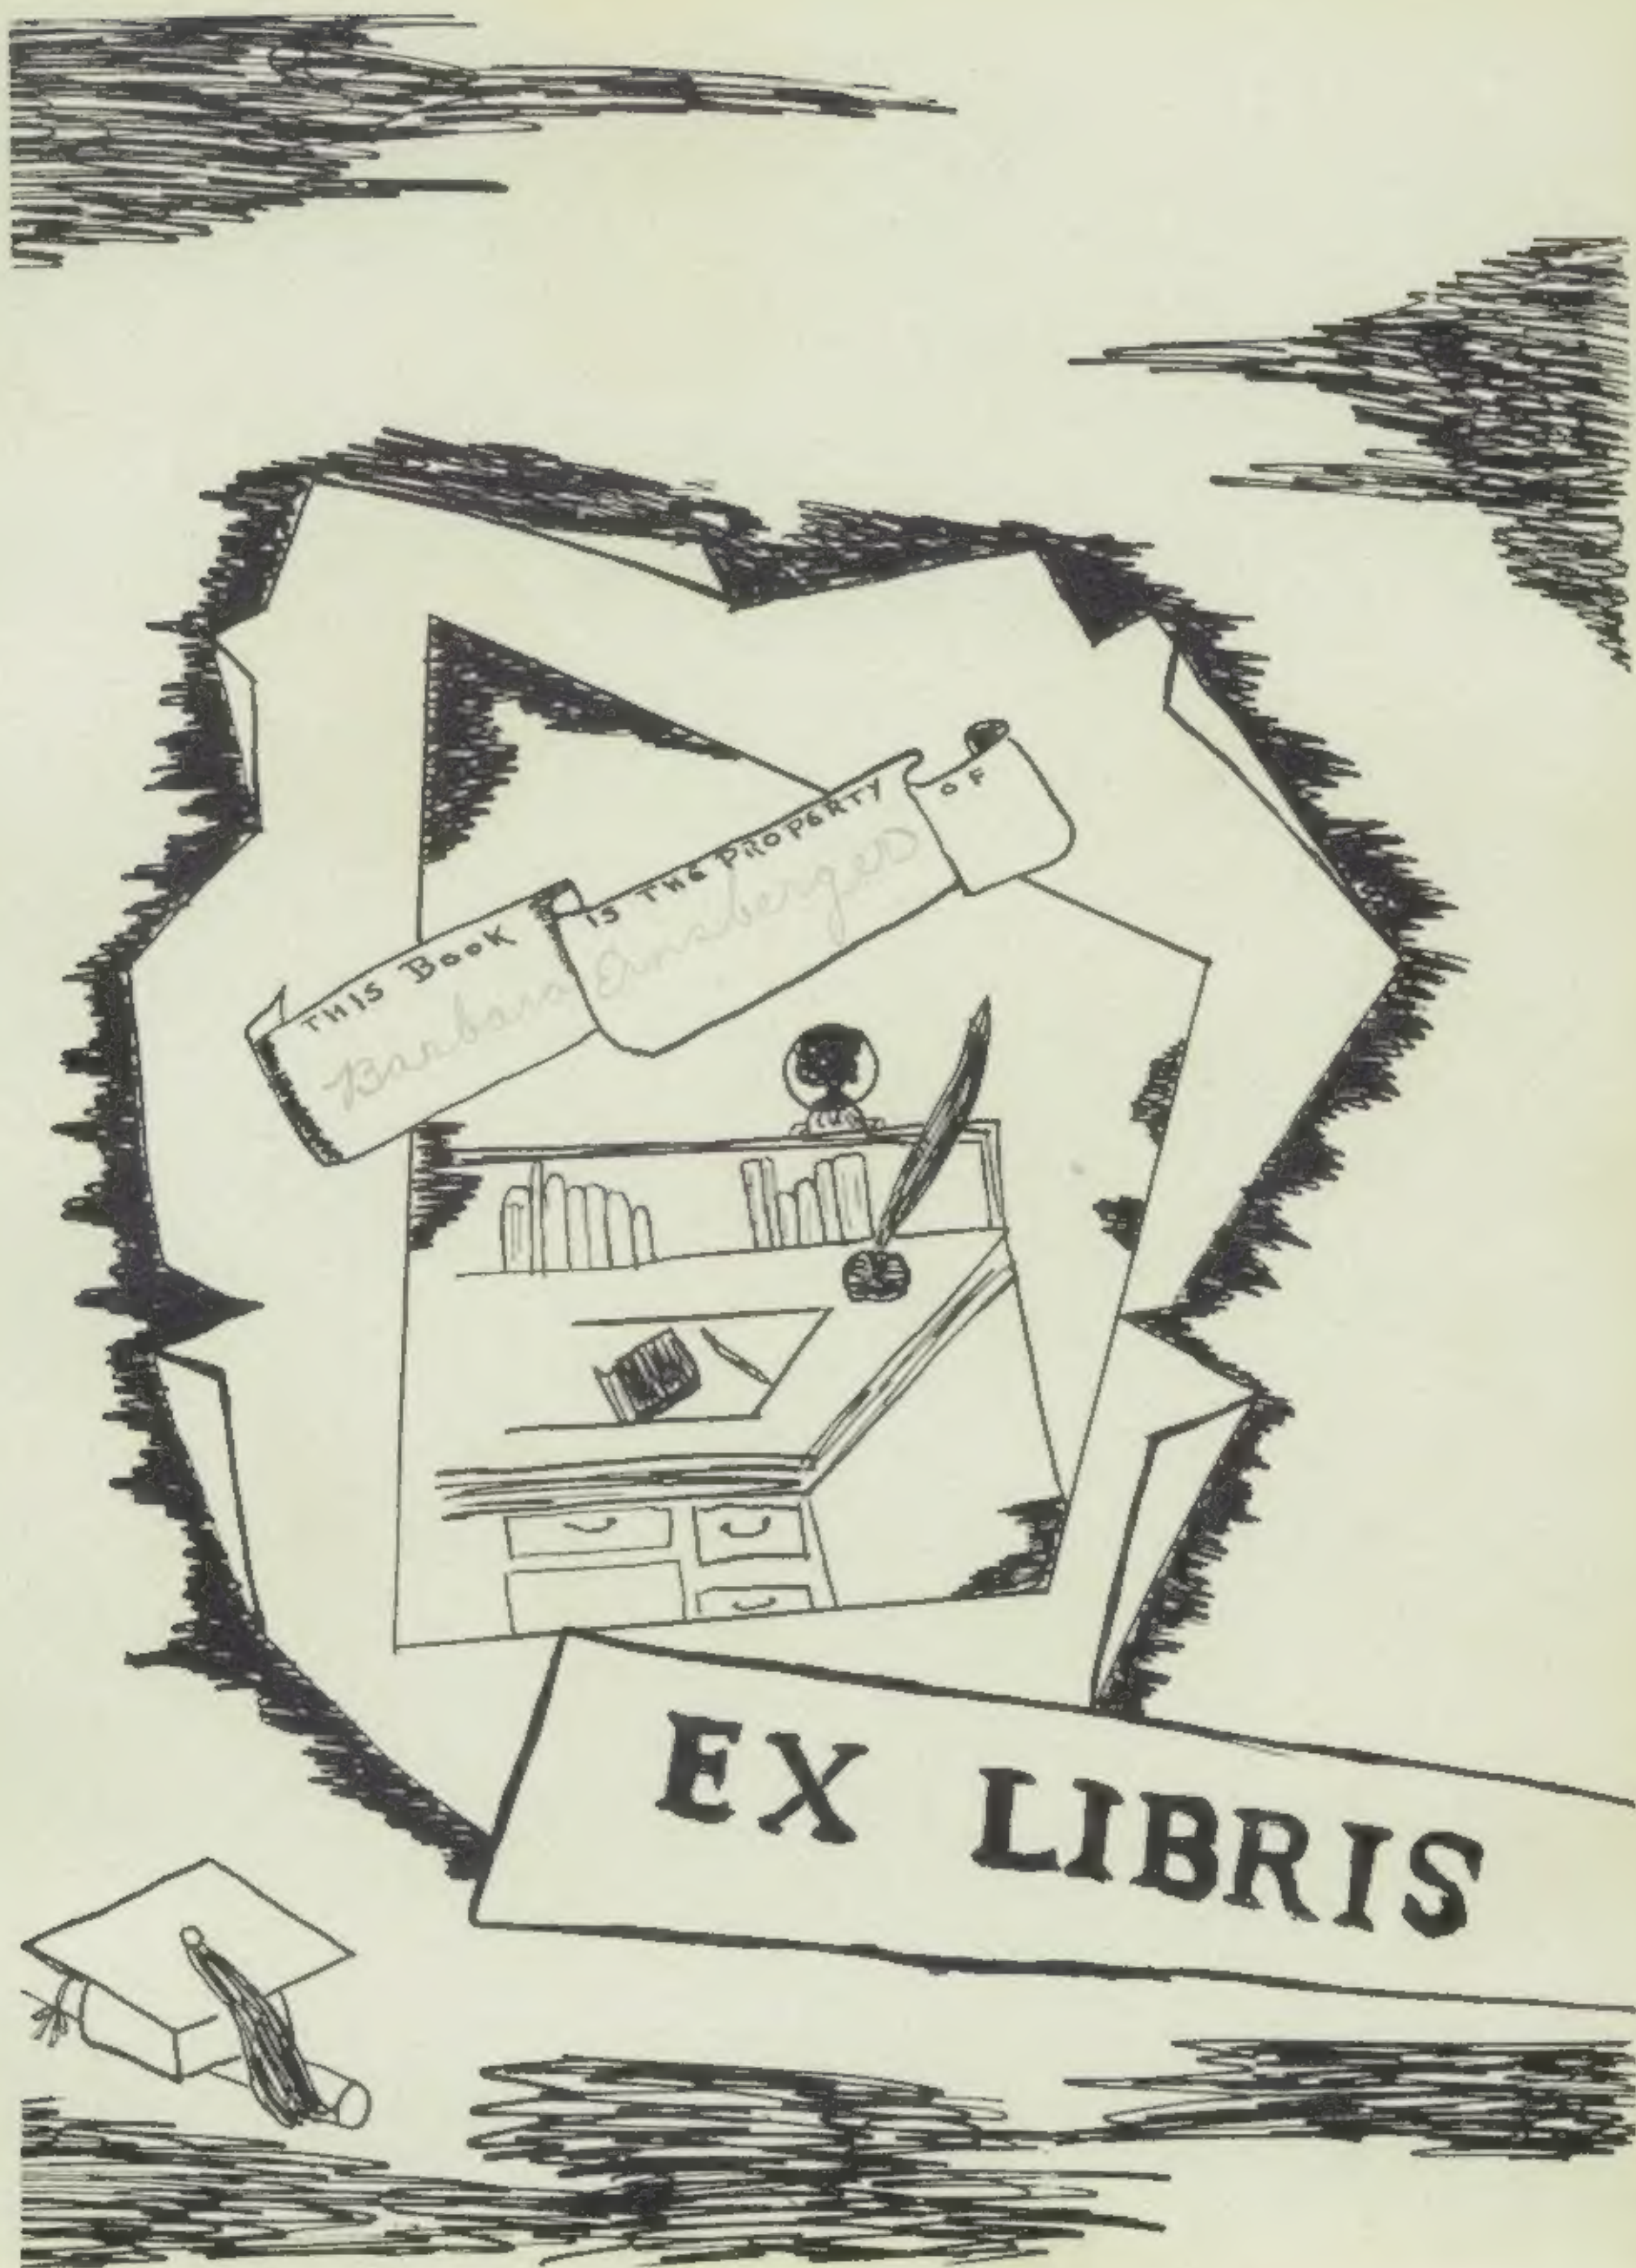

PRESENTED BY

THE CLASS OF 1951

CLYDE HIGH SCHOOL

CLYDE, OHIO

DEDICATION

To Mr. Forrest Hale, whose untiring efforts have placed our music department on top in State ratings, we, the class of '51 dedicate our production, The Courier.

Mr. Hale was born in Chardon, Ohio. There he received his elementary and high school education. He attended Baldwin-Wallace College where he Received a B. S. M. degree.

Before coming to Clyde to teach in 1948, Mr. Hale taught six years in New Madison, two years in Versailles, and one year in Cleveland, where he taught music at three schools each day.

His hobbies include photography and tropical fish as well as music. Before starting to teach in our school, he operated a photo studio here in Clyde. Not only our school, but also the town recognizes the outstanding work done by Mr. Hale.

Recently, his name was placed in "The Book of Golden Deeds," by the Exchange Club, as the man who has done the most for the town. We hope that he will continue the grand job he is doing for many years to come.

SUPERINTENDENT

In uncertain times such as we are now living, it is not only important but also necessary that the administration of the school be carried on by one who is able to have the never-ending dual problem of the definite needs of today and the indefinite needs of the uncertain future.

Uncertain as the future may be, the Clyde graduates can look toward it with courage, secure in the knowledge that they have received the best possible background to enable them to face and to handle those problems which the future will bring forth.

This is due in no little part to our superintendent, Mr. R. C. Fox. His qualities, administrative efficiency, foresightedness, consideration, and progressive ideas are doing to the Clyde students the type of education which a Democratic America must have if our way of life is to continue.

To you, Mr. R. C. Fox, the class of '51 extends a heartfelt appreciation for your contribution to our education.

BERNARD F. HUNT

A great deal of credit goes to our principal for his everlasting effort to assist the students. He is always ready to help, no matter how big the job.

Before he became principal, he taught junior and senior high school mathematics; now, he not only is principal, but he is also a teacher of social science.

We will always remember with gratitude his help and advice in the years to come.

CLASS HISTORY

At last the day approaches when all the students in the class see graduation in view. But what of yesteryears? How long will they remember them? Let us travel back a few years.

We see the first day of school. Everyone is enthusiastic about going to Miss Bradley's room. But, what is this--we are seated with Miss Wehr. Some of us were quite determined about where we wanted to go, but after a few days we resigned ourselves to our fate.

Miss "Bertha" and Miss Cleveland ushered us through our second year. This year romance entered our lives. Don Koch and Charles Hammer were thrilling the young girls. Along with learning our arithmetic, writing, and faithfully studying our readers, we learned about "Cowboys and Indians." It became a standard game on the playground.

In the fourth grade, we took a step toward being grown-up students. We had different teachers for our subjects. By this time, Tom Gill had been looked at with sighs and ah's. The girls played "House" and "King of Royal Mountain."

The fifth and sixth seemed endless; we wanted to get to the high school building. In 1945, we entered the halls of the high school, only to get lost going to our different classes.

By the time we reached the eighth grade we knew our way around fairly well. When we became the "Frosh of CHS," we thought we were really on our way. And, so we were, for the following year was our sophomore year when we knew just about everything there was to know (for sophomores).

We next looked forward to the great day when we would be juniors, a day to order class rings, participate in the class play, "Never Darken My Door," and most important, The Junior-Senior Prom. No doubt, Miss Young had a few gray hairs, but everything went along fine.

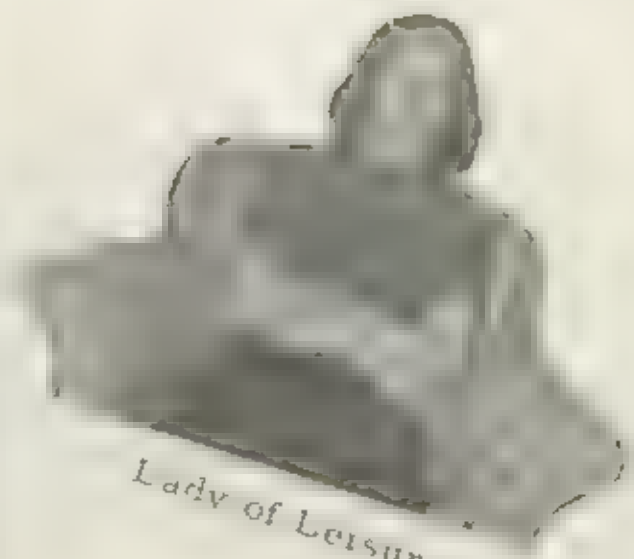

Now, we remember a more recent yesteryear, this, our Senior Year. We remember how patiently we waited for our pictures, then the Senior Class Play, "Cat O' Nine Tails." My, we had a swell time! Approaching exams reminded us of the thing which rarely slipped our mind----- GRADUATION. From there---- well who knows?

G.A.A.

The G. A. A. stands for Girls Athletic Association. The purpose of this organization is to promote better sports participation among its members and also among all high school girls. With the goals of healthful living, good sportsmanship, team co-operation, and recreational and social enjoyment and advancement, the G. A. A. offers itself as an A-1 organization for Clyde High School Girls.

In order to become a G. A. A. member, you must have 800 intramural points entitling you to an intramural letter. These are the "C" girls. If a girl has at least 600 points and wishes to become a member, she may come in as a "Pledge" and advance to membership when she has 800 points. The pledges' points are kept by the Pledge Mistress who informs the pledges when they reach 800 points.

The members hold elections at the beginning of a school term and elect a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, Treasurer, Pledge Mistress, and Reporter. The group is sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Director.

This is the first year that Clyde has Organized a G. A. A. They play interscholastic sports and teach members the games according to the latest rules.

The Junior Red Cross in the Clyde School was organized in 1942 according to the National Plan set up in Washington, D. C. It has been operated on this plan since that time.

All pupils enrolled in the school are eligible for membership by paying dues of one cent or more or by giving service on projects conducted by the council.

The council is composed of eighteen members, three from each of the upper six grades. These members are to be chosen by vote from a group who are interested in giving service to others. Each serves for one year or until another member is chosen to take his place.

The council plans the activities which will be conducted. Some of these activities are suggested by National Headquarters; other activities are carried out as necessity for such activities arises.

Since the organization is one of service, much is done locally. Such activities are not published except in a final report.

When funds are needed for local activities, the council conducts a paper drive, a bake sale, or a dance.

The pupils who work in the Junior Red Cross are interested in helping others and in making the world a little brighter because they have had a share in it.

Many students earn activity points by serving as student librarians. In this capacity, they issue books to pupils, file books and cards, keep the library in order, sometimes assist in preparing new books for circulation, and help pupils to find reference material.

SENIOR SCOUTS

Small, but extremely active, certainly, describes Explorer Post 321, our Local Senior Scout Unit. Realizing that Scouting is not a one night a week hobby, but rather, a way of life, the program of our unit is carried out at various times and in various locations. As a school organization, some business meetings are held in the school during activity periods. However, most of the social activity of the group originates at the homes of the scouts, each scout taking his turn at being the host and providing the evening's entertainment.

The most important part of the word scouting is the O-U-T-I-N-G, and that part is carried out by our camping trips to Camp Miakonda, near Sylvania, Ohio. The most impressive thing about our program is that it is planned and carried out by the group itself.

Operators have been in service for special events such as the demonstration at the P.T.A. meeting in November.

As an organized group they elected Jim Weisheit President, Pat Jennings Vice President, Virginia Humberger Secretary and Treasurer.

At the regular monthly meeting, they have presented demonstrations on the technique of film showing and the slide projector, manipulation of lights and other phases of the problems confronting movie operators.

Those who work at least six hours during a semester earn three activity points. Mr. Hunt is the faculty advisor of this organization.

The officers of the club are: President: Madalyn Schmitz, Vice-President: Dorothy Filsinger, Secretary: Ann Richmond, Reporter: Rita Stevenson, Publicity Agent: Dolly Hendricks.

The girls who are interested in cheering must try out before they are accepted into the club. The first year award is a letter, and the second year award is a gold megaphone. The full purpose of this club is to give to the school and the public welltrained cheerleaders. This year, the Megahone Club has been under the leadership of Miss Kennedy.

CLYDE HIGH SCHOOL BAND

The Clyde High School Band has been very active during the past year. In the spring of 1950, the group took the top "Superior I" rating at both the District and State Contest. Their marching shows at football games, both home and away, have made the group well-known, newspapers giving fine accounts of the band's intricate maneuvers. Concerts and parades at home and away keep band members "on the go".

Much praise should be given band members who crawl out of bed in the "wee small hours" in order to arrive at

Clyde Community Park by 7:00 a.m. for rehearsals during football season.

Band members enjoy a number of trips during each year. Last summer they took a trip to Canada by boat and had a very enjoyable time.

The band is trying for another successful year in contests. We know with Mr. Hale we can't lose.

The band and their director, Mr. Hale, are very grateful to the entire community for their fine cooperation shown in the support of the band, both financially and otherwise,

CLYDE HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

The school orchestra is gradually growing into a fine organization. As it takes longer to learn to play stringed instruments acceptably than it does band instruments, the improvement is necessarily much slower than with the band.

Last spring, the orchestra was given the top "Excellent" rating at the District Contest and the "Excellent II" rating at the State Contest.

Play, concerts, and a recital constitute the major activities of the orchestra.

LETTERMEN

SENIORS were Lester Hawk, Sam Higley, and Melvin Osman. We will miss these boys in the '51 season. Lester was at his best at District Meet when he tied the old 220 record of 22.5.

Sam helped us high jump and high hurdles.

Melvin threw the shot put and discus.

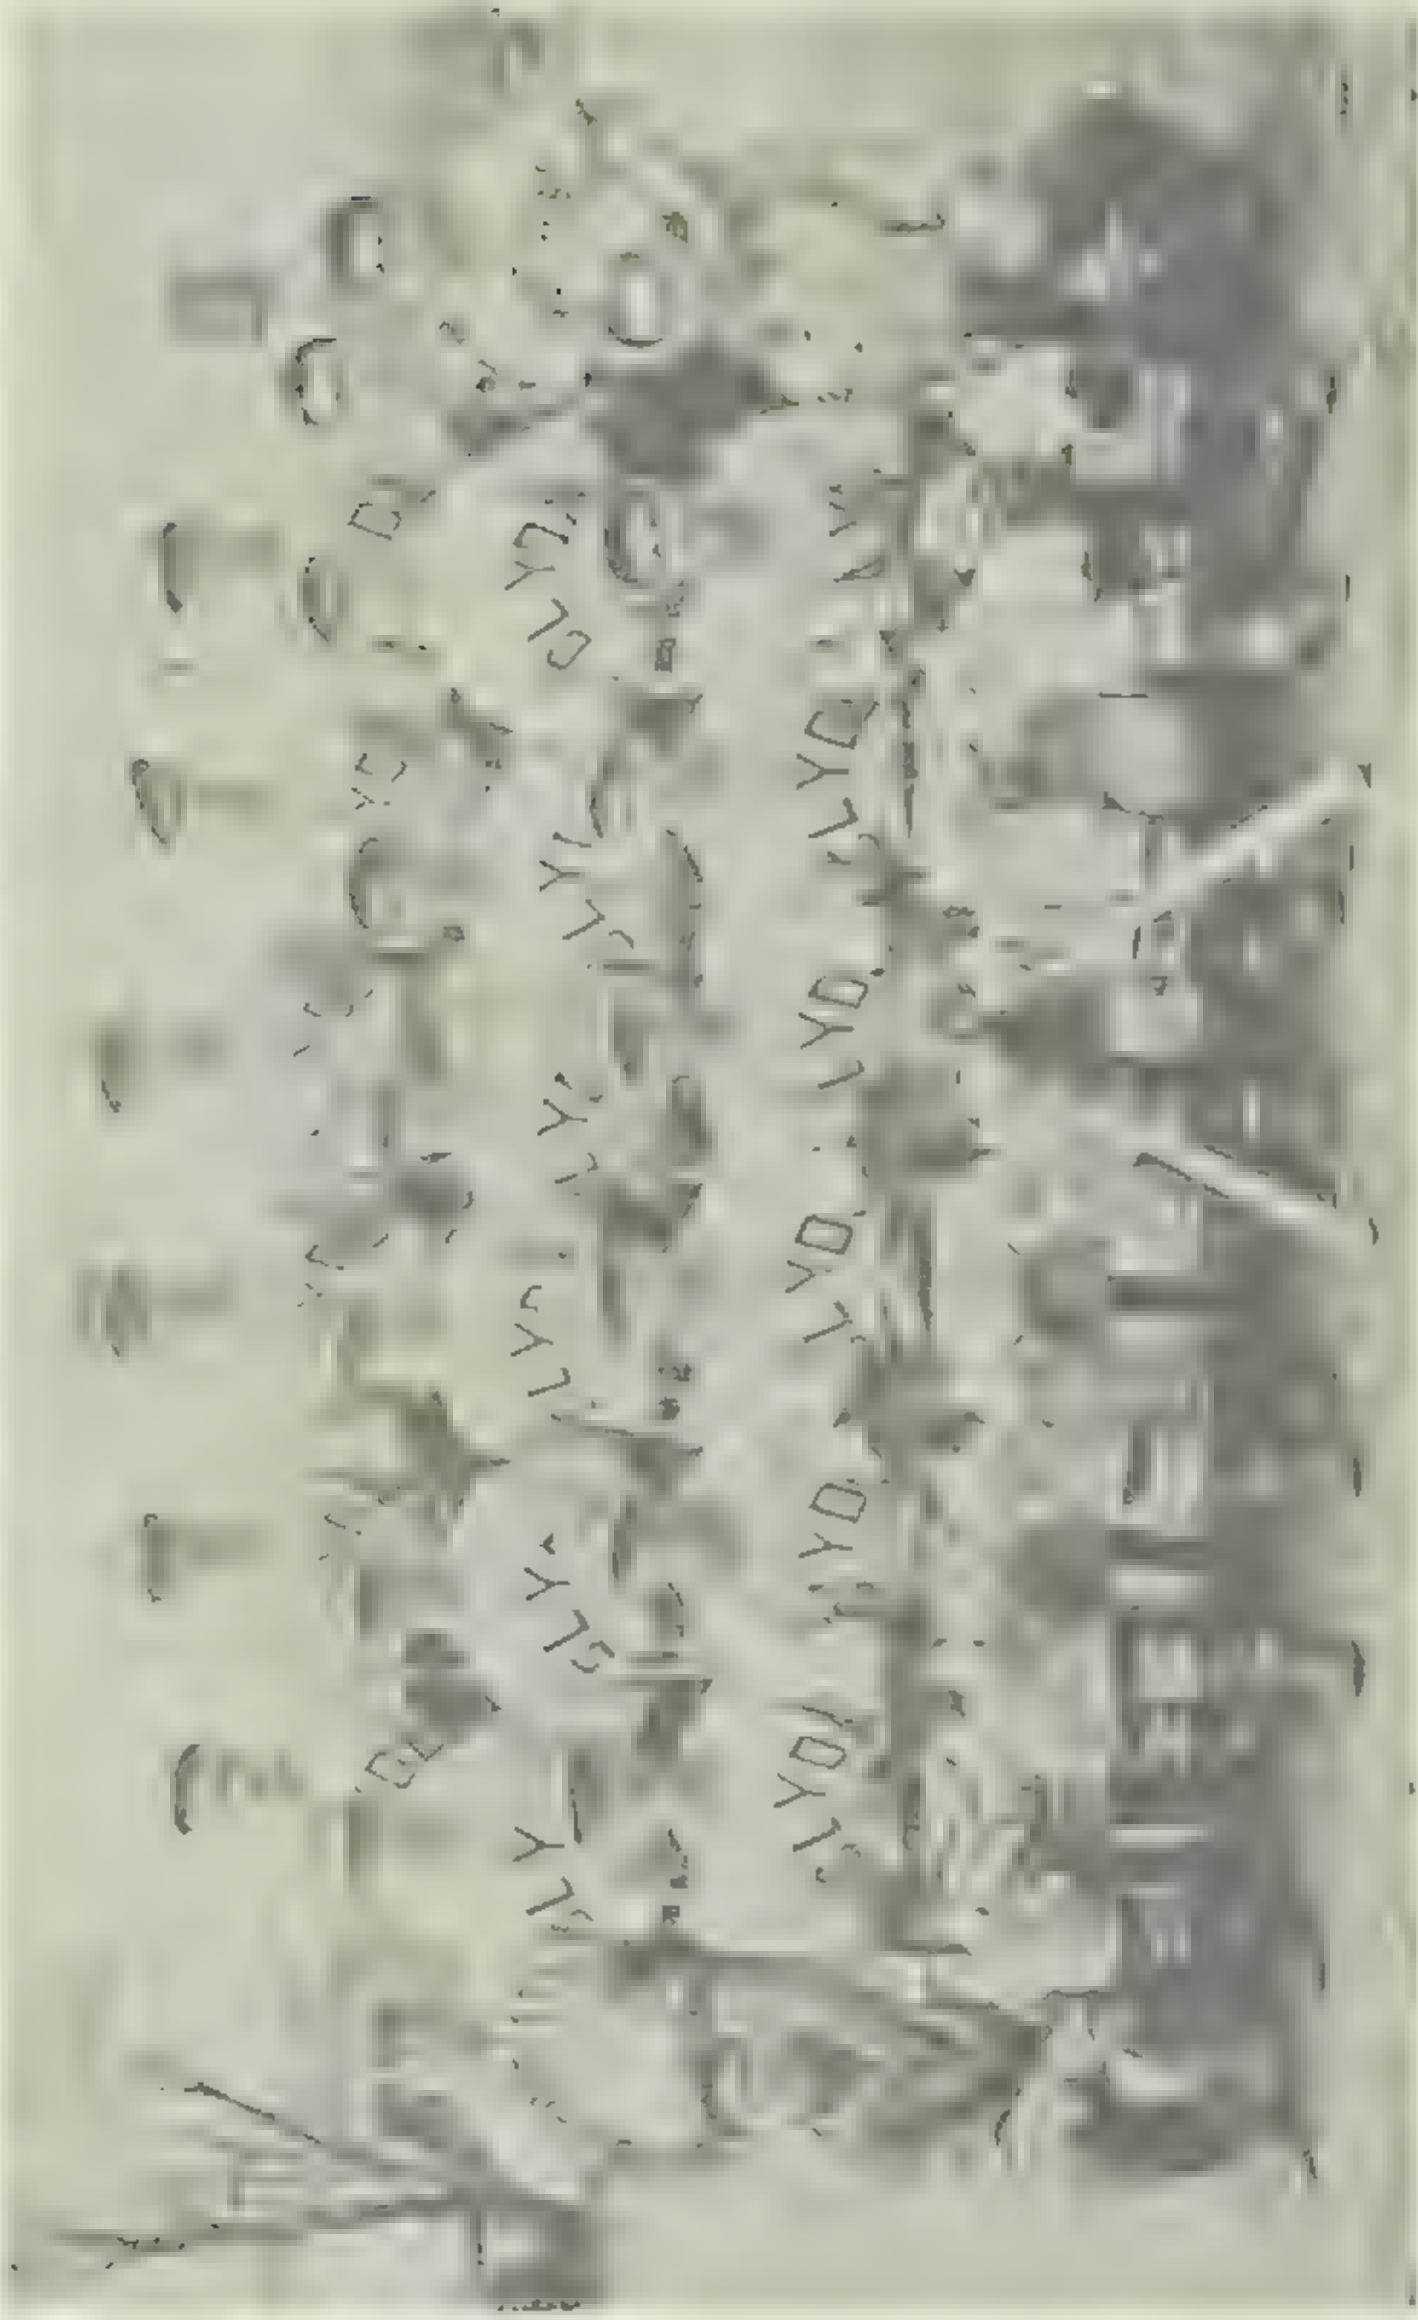

The 1950 season was a very good season, but the 1951 shows more promise with such returning lettermen as Fox, Aman, Bilbrey, Britton, Hammer, Mesnard, Mann, Thornton, Kuns, Dickman, Weisheit, Gardner, and Matter.

The 1951 Baseball Squad is one of the most promising squads in recent years. Only two lettermen were lost from the fifteen lettermen squad. The 1950 squad, playing their second season after a ten year lay off of baseball, had a four win--four loss record.

Catchers are Floyd Horton, Kenny Sheels, and James Frederick. Outfielders: Paul Farrar, Bob Berie, Gerald Bookmyer, William Stiger, Fred Meek, Walt Dayringer, Tom Gill, Paul Roth, Gary Mesnard. Infielders: Bill Norris, Tom Cullen, Arlin Rakes, Robert Michaels, Chelcer Matter, and Mike Aman.

DICK WHITE: was our quarterback and could really throw that pigskin. He was also honorary captain.

SENIOR PLAYERS

WILLIE SKILLITER: was the most improved player on the team. He played left-halfback.

FRED MEEK: had trouble with his ankles, but nevertheless he was fast in his position of left-half.

KEN SKEELS: was our ever hard-driving fullback. He also played a good defensive game.

JIM DICKMAN: was our Jack-of-All-Positions of the backfield.

CHELGER MATTER: received the most valuable award. He played offensive guard and was one of our best blockers.

SENIOR PLAYERS

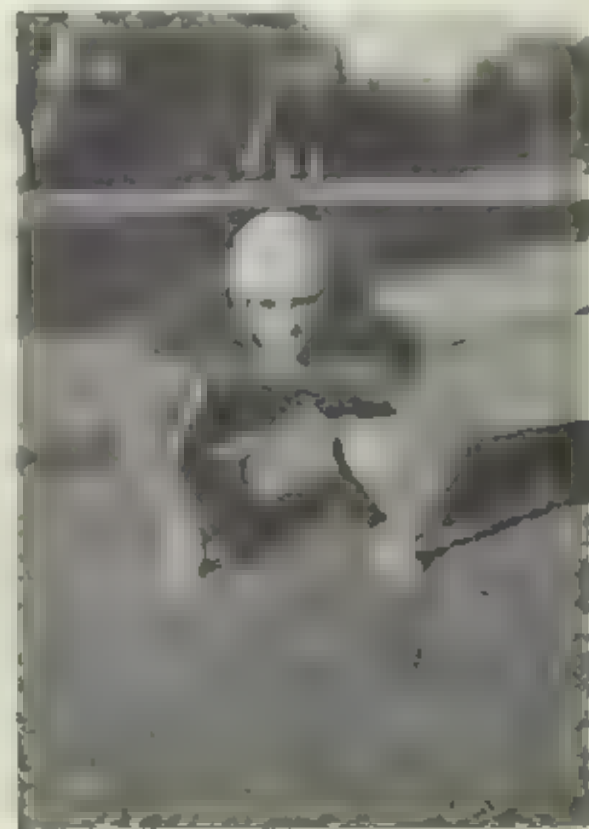

CHARLES HAMMER: made the 2nd team conference. He played offense and defense as tackle.

TOM CULLEN: as one of our best defensive guards, Tom was always in there with a will to win.

JIM WEISHEIT: although his first year he proved his ability in football as an end.

RALPH BRITTON: guard, Ralph was always on the job where he was needed.

No CARRIER of the past has been developed by a staff of more cooperative and willing workers than this 1951 edition. In but three short years the Yearbook has risen from a financial burden to a self-supporting publication. By the end of this school year the Business Editors will have handled and accounted for well over $5000.00. This includes Yearbook subscriptions, Magazine Drive, Receipts, and Ice Cream sales.

The Yearbook now is one of the biggest financial undertakings of the school.

The school photography speaks for itself, and will serve as a real challenge to any future staff. Official titles meant little to this year's staff. Editors, Photographers and Departmental Editors cooperated enthusiastically to make this book the finest CARRIER ever developed. Most of the work was done in a cold building at night. Their only reward is the satisfaction of a job well done, which, indeed, is true of the 1951 CARRIER.
